

FUR
www.stanpatt.it

LEATHER FASHION

made in

Türkiye

The Turkish Leather Industry is one of the most significant industries within the Turkish economy and one of the biggest producers in world. For the sheep/goat leather production, Turkey is second in leather processing in Europe, following Italy and 4th in the world following Italy, China and India. Turkey has the biggest processing capacity of double face sheepskin leather in the world with 8million pcs./year. The Turkish Leather Industry depends on modern production infrastructure in tanning and has environmental friendly conditions. A great importance is attached to design and creativity. Occupational education gains importance. As a result quality of finished products has reached the same level of leading countries.

JACKET

EMELDA